Cloze passage 1:

We are so surrounded by gadgetry that it is sometimes hard to tell where devices end and people begin. From computers and scanners to multifarious mobile devices,11.... spend much of their conscious lives interacting with the world through electronics, the only barrier between brain and machine12.... the senses-sight, sound and touch-through13....humans and devices interface.

But remove those senses from the equation,14.... electronic devices can become our eyes and ears and even our arms and legs, taking in the world around us and15.... with it through man made software and hardware.

Cloze passage 2:

Fuel cells have been hailed as a savior of the environment, because they can turn hydrogen and other fuels....11.... electricity cleanly and efficiently. But the technology has been hindered by the high cost of the platinum catalysts12.... .

Hydrogen fuels cells, for example, work by pumping hydrogen gas past one electrode (the anode), where13.... into its constituent electrons and protons. The electrons then flow through the anode,14.... electrical power, while the protons diffuse through the cell. Electrons and protons both end up at a second electrode (the cathode),15.... they recombine with oxygen from the atmosphere to form water.

Cloze passage 3:

Herbicides, also commonly known as weed killers, are pesticides used to kill unwanted plants. Selective herbicides kill specific targets,11.... the desired crop relatively unharmed. Some of these acts by interfering with12....and are often synthetic mimics of natural plant hormones. Herbicides used to clear waste ground, industrial sites, railways and railway embankments are not selective13.... all plant material with which they come into contact. Smaller quantities are used in forestry, pasture systems, and management of areas14.... as wildlife habitat. Some plants produce natural herbicides,15.... the genus Juglans (walnuts), or the tree of heaven; such action of natural herbicides, and other related chemical interactions, is called allelopathy.
